Our History

Harvest Valley Market was created by the Springfield township and has become a summer tradition for residents of Springfield and surrounding towns. The market provides opportunities for local growers, food and craft artisans to display and sell items to the public. Located on Harvest Valley Road, the market has been a growing success for the last 20 years and has evolved into one of the state's largest community markets.

Harvest Valley Market is committed to supporting small-scale farmers who practice sustainable agriculture. Our focus is to provide direct access to the best selection of regional products that support local production and sustainable farming practices. Purchasing your food through Harvest Valley Market ensures that you are getting the freshest, healthiest and tastiest foods. You are also supporting local jobs, increasing local spending and promoting the region's strong farming tradition. What's good for you is good for your community.

Visiting Harvest Valley Market

We are sure you'll have a great time at Valley Harvest Market, but we thought we'd share a few tips that can help ensure the best possible experience:

- Do dress according to the weather. The market is an outdoor event, so you can expect all kinds of weather, from early-morning frost to blazing heat.
- Don't get dehydrated! During warmer months, many vendors will be selling bottled water at their booths.
- Do park in the lot just behind the market or in the lot behind the ballpark.
- Do bring sturdy shopping bags or baskets to help carry your purchases back to your car. We recommend something with a shoulder strap to free up your hands.
- Do bring small bills so it is easier for the vendors to give you change. Bringing along a few coins doesn't hurt either.
- Do come early for the best selection.
- Do come after 10:00 am to avoid the crowds. The busiest times at the market are between 9:00 am and 11:00 am.
- Don't bring your pets to the market! We know you love your doggies, but we ask you not bring them into the market.
- Do ask questions: How is it grown? How do you cook it? Who has a certain kind of product? Our vendors love getting to know their customers and are happy to share details about their goods. If you have a question that a specific vendor can't answer, just go to the Manager's table in the middle of the market. We'll be happy to help.
